May your Majeſty long proſperouſly reign, poſſeſſed of the Love and Affection of your Subjects, a charming and ſure Support and Security of your Crown; and may your Royal Conſort our moſt gracious Queen, and the Royal Iſſue, who promiſe laſting Peace to our lateſt Poſterity, be conſtantly favoured by propitious Heaven; and may the Scepter of Britain never depart from your illuſtrious and Royal Houſe: Theſe are the hearty Wiſhes of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

YOUR Royal Virtues have in every Article of Life ſo univerſally attracted the Hearts of your Majeſty's Subjects, eſpecially in this your Majeſty's ancient Corporation, that if the unanimous Affection and abſolute Obedience of a dutiful and loyal People, can contribute to make your Majeſty's Reign over us long and happy, no Prince ever aſcended the Throne of his Royal Anceſtors with a more pleaſing Proſpect of Peace and Tranquillity than your Sacred Self.

Permit us, Dread Sovereign, to pay with your moſt Sacred Majeſty, the juſt Tribute of Condolance for the Death of your Royal Father; and at the ſame Time to expreſs our Gratitude to Heaven for alleviating that Infelicity, by placing your Majeſty at the Head of the Britiſh Church and Nation: A Bleſſing which can never be ſufficiently valued by thoſe who have any Regard to the true Intereſt of Great Britain.

Your Majeſty's Royal Declaration, and moſt gracious Speech delivered from the Throne in a moſt endearing Manner, are convincing Proofs of your Majeſty's reſolute Endeavours to make us a great and happy People; which, together with the Royal Aſſurance of ſecuring the Religious and Civil Rights of your Subjects, and the paternal Concern for their Welfare, demands the moſt grateful Acknowledgements which the higheſt Senſe of Duty can poſſibly ſuggeſt: And in return, we humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we will, in our reſpective Stations, contend to promote a ready and chearful Obedience in your Majeſty's Subjects, for the Honour and Dignity of your Sacred Perſon, and the Support of your Majeſty's Government in its utmoſt Extent.

That your Majeſty, and your Royal Conſort our moſt gracious Queen Caroline, and the Royal Iſſue, may be endowed for many Years with the choiceſt Bleſſings which Heaven condeſcends to beſtow upon her peculiar Favourites; and when your Majeſty ſhall be tranſlated from this Temporal to an Eternal Crown, may there never be wanting one of your Royal Family (equal in all Princely Accompliſhments to your Majeſty) to ſway the Britiſh

British Scepter to the last Period of Time, is the constant and hearty Prayer of us,

Your Majesty's dutiful Subjects.

In Testimony whereof we have, with one Consent of Heart and Mind, put our Common Seal, the 3d Day of July, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign, Anno Dom. 1727.

The following humble Address of the Bailiff, Steward, Approved Men and Burgesses of the ancient and loyal Corporation of Andover, has been presented to His Majesty by the Honourable James Brudenel, Esq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PErmit us, among the rest of your Majesty's Subjects, to approach your sacred Person, to condole with your Majesty on the Demise of your and our Royal Father, the Protector of our Laws, Religion and Liberty; a Loss only to be alleviated by your Majesty's happy and quiet Accession to the Throne.

Your Majesty's consummate Wisdom and known Attachment to the Constitution both in Church and State, secure us under your Administration in all that is dear and valuable.

Blessed with your Royal Consort the Queen, whom Providence hath now adorned with a Crown which her Majesty despised for the sake of true Religion: Blessed with a numerous Issue royally and religiously educated and animated to all that is Good by the Example of their Royal Parents, Pledges to Posterity of the happy Establishment of the Throne in your Family: May your Majesty long live to be the Glory and Happiness of these Kingdoms: May your Subjects all strive who shall be foremost in their Duty and Obedience to so good and gracious a King; but none shall outdo therein us, Your Majesty's most faithful Subjects.

Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to share with your Majesty in your just Grief and Affliction for the Death of your Royal Father our late most gracious Sovereign, of glorious Memory; a Loss we should have more sensibly felt, but for the Blessing of your Majesty's peaceable and happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors; a Blessing which has filled our Hearts with the utmost Joy and Satisfaction.

The early Assurances your Majesty gave us in a most solemn Declaration, and again confirmed to us in your most gracious Speech to your two Houses of Parliament, that the Love and Affection of your People you shall always look upon as the best Support and Security of your Crown, claims our most sincere and dutiful Acknowledgments; and as we are strongly convinced that we shall be a flourishing and happy People under your Majesty's Administration, we are determined, with our Hearts and Hands, chearfully to contribute what in us lies for the Support of your Majesty's Person and Government.

The reducing of your Forces, as soon as it can be done with Safety to the common Cause, and consistent with the Interest of the Kingdom, is a most distinguishing Mark of your Majesty's paternal Care of your People, and must needs make the deepest Impression of Gratitude in the Hearts of all your Subjects, and engage their utmost and most faithful Endeavours for your Majesty's Service.

The distinguishing Character of the Queen your Royal Consort, is another Blessing we enjoy under your Majesty's most auspicious Reign; and the additional Happiness of a numerous and hopeful Issue, which had been long wanting to these Kingdoms, is a lasting Pledge and Security of our happy Establishment.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THE many valuable Blessings we did enjoy under the Reign of our late Sovereign your Royal Father, of glorious Memory, calls us to take Part with your Majesty in your just Sorrow upon this melancholly Occasion; and therefore we, with Hearts full of Affection, beg Leave, at the same Time that we express our Grief for the Death of our late Sovereign, to congratulate your Majesty's peaceable and happy Accession to the Throne.

Your Majesty's known Virtues and consummate Wisdom, and the Valour wherewith you very early distinguished yourself in Defence of the Liberties of Europe, give us the certain Prospect of all the Happiness we can wish for under your Administration.

The Declarations you are pleased to make from the Throne, of your sincere Resolutions to maintain our Constitution, as established by Law, which you are pleased to assure your People is to be the Rule of your Government; and

and the Security you have already given to our Church; are what calls for our moſt grateful Acknowledgements.

We ſee with Pleaſure your ſacred Majeſty bleſs'd with a numerous Iſſue, which we eſteem the greateſt Security of perpetuating theſe Bleſſings which your Subjects now enjoy: And that your Majeſty, with your Royal Conſort and Family may be always under the Divine Protection; and that, until lateſt Poſterity, there may not be wanting one of your Royal Race to ſway the Scepter over us, is, and ſhall be the moſt fervent Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt obedient and loyal Subjects and Servants.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgeſſes, Freemen, and other the Inhabitants of the Borough of Lyme Regis, in the County of Dorſet, has been preſented to His Majeſty by John Burridge, Eſq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Deloraine Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

THE great Loſs that this Nation hath received by the ſudden and unexpected Death of his late Majeſty, of bleſſed Memory, would overwhelm us with Sorrow, were not our Hearts exceedingly revived by the Conſideration of that good Providence which preſerved your Majeſty to ſucceed in the Government of theſe Kingdoms, under whoſe auſpicious Reign we promiſe ourſelves all the Happineſs which we may hope for from a great and gracious Prince. We therefore humbly crave Leave to congratulate your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne, and to render our humble Thanks for your moſt gracious Declaration; and we do give your Majeſty the greateſt Aſſurance we are able of our hearty and conſtant Loyalty and Obedience; and that we will, to the utmoſt of our Power, preſerve your Majeſty's Sacred Perſon and Government againſt all Enemies whatſoever; and as in Duty bound, always pray for your Majeſty's long and proſperous Reign over us.

The following humble Addreſs of the Magiſtrates, Town-Council, and Deacons of Crafts of the Burgh of Lanark, for themſelves, and in Name of the whole Inhabitants and Community of the ſaid Burgh, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Queensbury, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Cheſterfield Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magiſtrates, Town-Council, and Deacons of Crafts of the Burgh of Lanark, for ourſelves, and in Name of the whole Inhabitants and Community of the ſaid Burgh, after expreſſing our hearty Concern and Sorrow for the Death of your Royal Father, think ourſelves indiſpenſibly bound to take the earlieſt Opportunity to aſſure your Majeſty of our ſincere Affection to your ſacred Perſon, our zealous Attachment to your Royal Houſe, and our inviolable Fidelity to your Government.

We anticipate the Happineſs prepared for us under your Majeſty's Adminiſtration: Then we muſt be the moſt ſenſible of the Value of our excellent Conſtitution, when we are governed by a Prince who has made it his principal Study, and who has given Proofs, that from a thorough Knowledge of it, he has acquired an Eſteem, a Tenderneſs and Fondneſs for it.

After a long Enjoyment of Peace, Plenty and Security under your Majeſty's Royal Father, our late wiſe and glorious King, the Proſpect of the Continuance and Increaſe of the ſame Bleſſings, cannot but fill our Hearts with inexpreſſible Joy. It is the peculiar Felicity of your Majeſty's Dominions, that the Wiſhes and Intereſts of your Majeſty and of your People muſt be the ſame, their Concerns your Majeſty's Care, and your Majeſty's Enemies Enemies to their Country. While we congratulate your Majeſty upon your Acceſſion to rule over a People chearfully obedient, we congratulate on another Hand our Fellow-Subjects on the Pleaſure of obeying a Sovereign, whom Juſtice, Honour, and an intimate Acquaintance with, and Regard for our State and Condition, have always guided.

That we may long enjoy the Effects of your Majeſty's great Qualities, through a proſperous and undiſturbed Reign: That your Majeſty, your Royal Conſort the admirable Partner of your Virtues, the Prince of Wales, and all your Majeſty's illuſtrious Off-ſpring, may be the particular Care of Almighty God: That Faction may be ſilenced, and the Name of an abjured Popiſh Pretender forgot, is the hearty Prayer of your Majeſty's faithful Burgh of Lanark; Who reckons it her greateſt Glory, that, among her whole Members, there is not to be found one ſingle Man tainted with the Imputation of Diſaffection to your Majeſty's Perſon or Government.

Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Suſſex, do with the greateſt Submiſſion make uſe of this firſt publick Opportunity we have had, of expreſſing our Concern for the Loſs of our late moſt gracious Sovereign, of bleſſed Memory; and our Share in the univerſal Joy and Satisfaction, which your Majeſty's Succeſſion as ſole and undoubted Heir to the Imperial Crown of your Anceſtors, has given to all your People.

The Valour by which your Majeſty ſo early diſtinguiſh'd yourſelf in the Defence of the Rights of Great Britain and the Liberties of Europe, the Wiſdom and Clemency with which you ruled theſe Kingdoms during your Regency, your Knowledge of our excellent Conſtitution both in Church and State, the early and conſtant Affection you have ſhewn for this Nation, and the Honour, Juſtice and other truly Royal Virtues which adorn your ſacred Perſon, could not but raiſe in us the higheſt Expectations of all Manner of Proſperity under your Government.

Theſe Expectations are now fully anſwered; and we have nothing left to wiſh, but that your Majeſty's indefatigable Care for the preſerving of the Religion, Laws and Liberties of our Country, the promoting its Trade, increaſing its Wealth and Power at Home, and advancing its Reputation and Influence Abroad, and for reſtoring the Tranquility, and maintaining the Balance of Europe, may ſtill be attended with uninterrupted Succeſs: That you may long live bleſſed in your Royal Conſort, whoſe true Greatneſs of Mind in refuſing a Crown, not to be enjoyed on Terms conſiſtent with a good Conſcience, ſhewed her worthy of that ſhe now wears, of which her own eminent Vertues are the brighteſt Ornament; and happy in your illuſtrious Offspring, who being formed after the great Examples before them, are ſure Pledges to your People, that the Bleſſings we now enjoy will be continued to our Poſterity.

To theſe our heartieſt Prayers, we beg Leave to add our moſt ſincere Profeſſions, that no poſſible Returns of Duty and Gratitude ſhall ever be wanting on our Part: That we will always with the greateſt Chearfulneſs contribute all in our Power to the Support of your Government, and to the Glory of your Reign: And that we ſhall, at all Times, be ready to ſacrifice our Lives and Fortunes for the Defence of your Royal Perſon, and for the maintaining of the Honour and Dignity of your Crown.
